Textiles and drawings by Colleen O'Hara

The natural world around us is amazing and beautiful, providing everything all species and humans need to thrive. There are so many threats to our beautiful planet, Earth. Still, I have hope. In this work I acknowledge the natural world — hold it close, keep my eyes and attention upon it and celebrate it. I use materials that feel comfortable in my hand — fabric, thread, paper and pencils.

Please join me to celebrate our earth and art!
